Mike Dolan

My whole life I've been stricken with wanderlust, an insatiable curiosity, and the compulsion to create. My musical output is nothing if not eclectic. My influences include folk, punk, Irish pub songs, metal, world music, especially Indian and African contemporary, blues, and rock.

Jenna Greene

Emmy-nominated musician Jenna Greene is a singer-songwriter and harpist, a weaver of musical myth and magic. With a voice that is both ethereal and soulful, she sings of ancient lore, finding wonder and following dreams. She beautifully interlaces her Celtic and World Folk influences to create a presentation of haunting ballads, drum-driven dance tunes, lilting harp and mythic story.

Peter Janson

"My Creative Jazz style is based on my own artistic vision. Drawing from my roots in jazz, classical, and acoustic instrumental styles, my sound incorporates soft interesting grooves and improvisation." Based in Boston MA, Peter Janson's music has earned him national acclaim.

Nathaniel Johnstone

Nathaniel Johnstone is a multi-instrumentalist singer/songwriter who sings about humanity, myth and whimsy. His work includes the transhumanist fantasy and playfully audacious. Nathaniel cheekily calls himself "polybanderous", performing on stage with any singer, musician, dancer, and artist who loves music and mayhem as much as he does.

The L.I.A.R.S.

The Ladies of Integrity, Aristocracy, Repute, and Society, or L.I.A.R.S., are a troupe of women who love to raise their voices together in song. The five lovely ladies, who go by the names of Temperance, Modesty, Serenity, Grace, and Patience have stated their goal to spread lovely harmonies and a love and appreciation of traditional music and sea chanties wherever they go.

Misfits of Avalon

Delighting lovers of Celtic music, the group features Brian Weiland (on hammered dulcimer, Celtic mandolin, and anything else) and Max Cohen (fingerstyle guitarist with a brilliantly emotive voice). Their sound has been described as delivering both delicately sublime beauty and energetically powerful drive — often in the same song!

Untitl'd (Derek O'Sullivan & Ed Newton)

When they met, they bonded over shamanism, science fiction, and archaic music styles and Untitl'd was born of the idea of blending those interests into their own tasty musical eggroll. Their technique combines electric and acoustic sounds with world instruments to express their interests in various musical and spiritual influences.

Zabel

Zabel, forever a student of dance, has dedicated her life to the pursuit of helping others thrive through the healing art of dance. She has traveled teaching and studying the art of belly dance and has developed a personal sacred practice through this medium. Zabel mentors dancers of all ages to help them discover their inner power, strength and calmness through dance, passing on this most precious gift.

Welcoming the Seasons: An All-Ages Workshop

With J. C. Artemisia

Practical, Kid-Friendly Blessings and Life Rituals: It can be challenging to live in the magick as busy schedules rush us through mounds of obligations as the year turns and the calendar pages fall. In this all-ages workshop, adults and children join in exploring magickal energy focus winter, spring, summer, and fall. Attendees get hands-on creating seasonal blessing sigils. Other discussions include altar spaces, offerings, and intentional housekeep.

As a Pagan children's author, J. C. Artemisia has spent nearly a decade writing the spiritual books she wished for when she was growing up Pagan in the 90s. Her titles include diverse representation and themes. She believes children learn best when they feel a deeper connection to their books, which is why all her titles include blessings, activities, and/or meditations in the back-matter pages.

An Intro to the Tarot — “The LoonWitch Way”

There are only a few things that you need to memorize in order to begin your journey to understanding and reading the tarot. In this workshop you will learn the “most important” steps to being comfortable working with the tarot are, in my opinion, and understand how to continue developing your tarot skills and relationship with your cards. Please bring your own deck to this experiential class. No previous tarot experience is required.

Getting Out of Your Head to Read the Tarot

If you have ever felt intimidated or overwhelmed trying to learn the tarot, now's your chance to get un-stuck and out of your analytical mind! This workshop focuses on how the cards interact with each other to create the story of a reading. It's not about memorization; it's about communication. The Tarot is an ancient tool offering guidance and detailed information to us if we are open to “listen”. Being a Tarot Reader is about understanding the language of the cards and how they converse with each other. This workshop includes active readings with the participants. Please bring your own deck to work with; it deepens your connection to your cards and helps you see the process of readings in a new way! Minimal tarot experience required for this workshop.

Break on Through: A Discourse in Magical Heritage Age

With CoyoteSkyWoman

A recent post read: “So I had a thought...What if supernatural creatures don’t exist anymore? What if they once did, but through the years, they slowly mixed with the humans? You can see it in the way that middle school girl never forgets when someone makes her a promise... You can see the blood of dryads in hikers who never trip over roots. You can see it in that suburban grandmother who never lets any of her garden die. You can see it in that one kid who climbs a tree faster than his friends, barely looking at the branches as he goes.

What does it mean to be fae-blooded? Dragon-kin? Some avatar of a long-ago god? How do people display their connections to this possible heritage and how can we tell in a world of constant diagnoses and science over belief what is just the result of wishful thinking and what true connections exist between magical beings and our mundane lives? Do Otherkin have a place in this discussion as well? Come for the discussion, stay for the metaphorical tacos as we examine the concepts of what it would mean to have these ties to other races and other times.

CoyoteSkyWoman has been a member of the local pagan community for over 30 years. A practicing shaman, her experience has included a diverse background, including Land work, energy rebalancing, cleansings, channeling, and spirit work. She is the author of three fantasy novels and spends her days tormenting students with the English language.

The Astrology of 2024–2026 — Riding the Cosmic Wave

With Patrick Flaherty

The next two years will see all three outer planets (Uranus, Neptune, and Pluto) change signs, and form a once in a century alignment with each other. Amidst potentially dramatic societal upheavals, we will discuss what these transits will mean for the individual, psychologically and spiritually. I will endeavor to provide practical hints on how to better ride the upcoming cosmic wave.

Patrick Flaherty has explored many disciplines – Eastern religions, Western esoteric traditions, Non-Violent Communication, trauma work – that inform his unique approach to astrology. He is a musician, and produces a podcast called Deep Astrology.

Dragonfire Alchemy — With Jenna Greene

In your childhood you probably heard stories of a brave soul who sets out upon a quest to find a mysterious cave and battle the fiery dragon within. While this may seem like a mere fairytale, there is much to be learned from dragon stories, for they are rich in mythic symbolism. In this workshop, you will learn how to use these symbols as magical tools. You will discover your own dragon story. Together we will fight “dragons” you’ve met before: Procrastination, Imposter Syndrome, Not Good Enough, Stuck, Doubt, Fear, Self-Consciousness, and the biggest, baddest dragon of all, Should. We will battle these fearsome beasts and transform them into guardians and guides, with the five “swords” I teach you to wield: Somatic Release, Mental Reframing, Hyperfocus, Inner Child Work, and Visualization. As you bring your personal dragon story to life, it is my hope that it will become a roadmap to authenticity, freedom, and playfulness on your quest through life. Jenna Greene is an Emmy-nominated musician, healer, artist, and ritualist. Her great passion is to use her gifts to heal your “not good enoughs” – those wounded places deep inside that hold you back from a joyful life. She intuitively taps into goddess archetypes, nature spirituality, and shamanism to nurture and inspire your path and purpose. GreeneLadyMusic.com

Stringbound Journal Make and Take Recycle, repurpose, recolor! — With Kate Holly-Clark

This is a hands-on workshop on how to make a stringbound journal, using a discarded book for the cover. Stringbinding is an old bookmaking technique traditionally used to consolidate a bunch of smaller books or signatures of pages; so you can add and remove sections as you please. We'll talk a little bit about color-correspondences for what you use your books FOR. Bring a baggie full of scraps of fabric or fun papers or scrap pictures or whatever from home for decoration. I'll provide glue, old books, string, and an assortment of scraps of decorative stuff I have on hand at the time.

Since 1996 Kate has played with multiple media for jewelry, mostly concentrating on wire, beads, clay, and wood. She has been busy working in various media and crafts, with a Yankee emphasis on "practical", which is how she got into soap.

Reconciling Divine Paradox Along the Pentacle Path of Elemental Witchcraft

Presenting the Pentacle Path of Elemental Witchcraft as a magickal system enacted throughout the Wheel of the Year. Like each stroke drawn of a five-pointed star, each mystery of earth, air, fire, water and spirit weaves between the projective outer mysteries, and the receptive inner mysteries. Through this practice of Elemental Witchcraft, those powers aid the Witch to reconcile the paradoxes created by the illusion of material separation of God/dess here in the middle world. We'll discuss elemental earth and the Path of Sovereignty, air and the Path of Truth, fire and the Path of Power, water and the Path of Love, and spirit as the Path of Completion. These tools aid Witchcraft's transformation of our society into a cooperative culture inspired by a God/dess in balance.

Auspicious Timing by Astrology: The Great Work of Magick throughout the Wheel of the Year

Auspicious timing according to astrology lays out a year-long map of energetic tides according to earth's natural cycles, rather than the Catholic legacy of the Gregorian Calendar. This Great Work planning method for meaningful magickal workings within the Wheel of the Year, allows the witch deep spiritual exploration while balancing their five-fold self. This workshop integrates the 8 elemental mysteries with the seasons, the Sabbats of the Sun, the full and dark moon Esbats, including a look at blue and black moons, and patterns of lunar leadership.

Elemental Witchcraft and a New Witch's Jewel of Power

To know, to will, to dare and to keep silent. Since the 18th century, these were the four Hermetic magickal maxims known as the Sphinx of the Magus. These maxims describe the projective lessons of earth, air, water, and fire. Within 20th C. Wicca, the Sphinx morphed into a new symbol: the Witch's Pyramid, crowned with Spirit and a new maxim, the Wiccan Rede. That's only half the story! We'll explore an expanded symbolical structure to better describe the mirror reflection of the God/dess in balance. Introducing the Witch's Jewel of Power, and the receptive elemental tools of cooperation culminates in the missing maxim of the Goddess: Perfect Love and Perfect Trustworthiness.

Planning Sabbat Rituals Throughout the Wheel of the Year

With Robbi Packard

Throughout the Wheel of the Year, we celebrate the seasons, either as a solitary practitioner, or as part of a larger group. We could use the same ritual for all of the celebrations, but each sabbat, each season, offers us inspiration we can use to make each celebration special. We'll delve into what each sabbat offers as inspiration to help us customize each ritual, including some organic preparations that Robbi uses for rituals, and how she builds on them throughout the year. She does not limit the idea of Sabbat celebrations to any particular Deities, opening possibilities for a broader sense of community, bringing people together regardless of their own personal practices.

Glamor: Not Just for Supermodels

Glamor. You may have read this term in conjunction with vampires, and this is a very apt term: the vampire uses his charisma and good looks (if you read Stephanie Meyer) to attract and dominate his victims. Cult leaders use glamor to affect their congregations. That person everyone follows around at work; the woman who has her co-workers hanging on her every word has glamor. Abusers use glamor to attract victims. Identifying and avoiding metaphysical glamor is the subject of this workshop. You'll learn the danger signs that you're being "glammed" and ways to counter the effects of such incursions. There might even be some charms involved!

Accessing the Deep Fire

We will review how intuitive abilities are something we all possess. Often when we think of fire, our minds go to open flames: drum circle fires, candle flames, cooking fires. But fire goes far deeper than that, into the earth; it lies beneath our feet and comes to the surface as an upwelling of creation, bringing forth new, fertile land. This workshop is a ritual/meditation, an exercise intended to assist attendees in accessing and channeling the deep-rooted creative energies of the Earth's Deep Fire.

Sophia will also present Just the Facts, Ma'at. See the After Dark page for more info.

Pagan Living

What does it mean to live as a pagan in modern times? Feeling disconnected or out of touch with the spirits? Join Valentine Stormcrow for a discussion on living life as a pagan in the 21st century. We will discuss things to do both in and outside the home that can be added to our daily practice and help us be more mindful of the spiritual world around us.

The Importance of Cleansing and Blessing Ritual Tools Before Using Them

Many of the ritual tools we use are purchased from others. We don't know where the tool has been, what energies it has picked up in its travels, and what intention the maker had when they made it. This is why we cleanse and bless our tools before we use them. We'll cover the many ways to cleanse a tool (clearing harmful and unwanted energies) and how to bless the tool for its intended use. If you purchase tools at the marketplace on Saturday, you will have an opportunity to cleanse and bless your new tools in the main ritual.

Irena and Valentine are also presenting Exorcism during After Dark, and performing the Main Ritual with The Serenity Circle coven .

With Irena and Valentine Stormcrow

She is an adept of the healing arts.*
